

Appendix I

Following are instructions Yermonia hands out for her telephone healing sessions. Interestingly, it is written in English, as she explained – it is for Armenians who live in the United States.

In the lower right corner I have superimposed the small paper she hands out to everyone who comes to her for healing. It states her requirement that the patient believes in God, be baptized, and believe in her healing powers. It goes on to instruct the patient on the following: not to lie about their beliefs; to keep the Sabbath; to honor mother and father; not to behave like ‘a dog’; not to steal or lie; and to pay her whatever they can afford for her services.
